

Abd Arrahmane Mira University Bejaia

Faculty of law and political sciences

Semester1

English lecture

Teacher: Mammeri

Level: second year

Lesson 3: conditionals / if clause الشرط

Conditionals describe the result of something that might happen (in the present or future)

Kinds of conditionals

1- The zero conditional : describes what happens in general, (general truth)

هذا النوع من الشرط نستعمله عندما تكون حقيقة عامة

Example: if you heat water to 100° degrees, it boils إذا سخنت الماء لدرجة 100°، فإنه سيبتخر

Rule:

If + present simple tense , present simple tense

If you heat water to 100 degrees, it boils

If clause

main clause

2- The first conditional : used to talk about things which might , happen in the future

هذا الشرط يتطلب عمل شيء في الحاضر للحصول على نتيجة في المستقبل

Example: if I study, I will succeed إذا درستُ سأنجح

Rule:

If + present simple tense, will infinitive

If it rains tomorrow, we will go to cinema

If clause

main clause